Clean Air Interstate Rule (CAIR) Designated Representative

EPA's Clean Air Markets Division (CAMD) has updated the Certificate of Representation (DR form) to integrate the CAIR sulfur dioxide (SO2), CAIR annual nitrogen oxide (NOx), and CAIR ozone season NOx programs into the existing Acid Rain Program DR form. The form is now available for submission by the owners and operators of CAIR affected sources via the links posted below.

A complete DR form must be submitted to CAMD before any other submissions are made for CAIR or Acid Rain Program purposes (such as permit applications, allowance transfers, monitoring plans, monitor certification applications, and emissions data reports). By submitting this form to CAMD, the owners and operators of CAIR or Acid Rain affected sources authorize a person or persons to make submissions for those programs. CAMD is strongly recommending that the Certificate of Representation data be submitted online via the CAMD Business System (CBS) at https://camd.epa.gov/cbs/index.cfm. Persons who have questions regarding CBS should contact either Laurie DeSantis at 202.343.9191 or desantis.laurel@epa.gov; or Alex Salpeter at 202.343.9157 or salpeter.alex@epa.gov.

For sources subject to both a CAIR program and the Acid Rain Program, the designated representative and CAIR designated representative must be the same person; the alternate designated representative (ADR) and the alternate CAIR designated representative must also be the same person, if applicable. The current designated representatives and alternate designated representatives for affected sources under the Acid Rain Program, and the authorized account representatives (AARs) and alternate authorized account representatives (AAARs) for the NOx Budget Trading Program, must also submit an updated Certificate of Representation (if their sources are also subject to a CAIR program) before any other CAIR-related submissions can be made. Current DRs, ADRs, AARs, or AAARs will not "automatically" be designated CAIR representatives by CAMD; the updated Certificate of Representation must be submitted for a person to be authorized to make CAIR submissions.

For persons who choose not to submit the Certificate of Representation data via CBS, the updated form can also be viewed and downloaded at http://www.epa.gov/airmarkets/forms/index.html#arp.
